ARRANGING FOR TWO BIG DEBATES

University of Virginia Will Meet North Carolina and Tulane.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch,] CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., January 10 .- A meeting of the debating union of the Jefferson and Washington Literary Societies of the University of Virginia was held yesterday for the purpose of making arrangements for coming intercollegiate debates which Virginia has scheduled with Tulane and North Carolina Universities. which Virginia has scheduled with Tulane and North Carolina Universities. The union consists of Warren Bruce Buford, of Roanoke, Va., and J. C. Jamison, of the Jefferson Society, as president and assistant treasurer, respectively, and Maurice Hirsch, of Houston, Tex., and William Newton Neff, of Chilhowie, Va., of the Washington Society, as vice-president and secretary, respectively, while Professor Paul is the permanent faculty member, and acts as treasurer. This union was adopted by the two societies as the best means of mutual representation and co-operation.

The debate is scheduled for the middle of April, but the question has not been decided upon. Tulane, which has the choice of question, has submitted one of an economic nature not wholly satisfactory to the Virginia union, and there is a consequent delay in its adoption.

There are two teams of three men each to be chosen. One of these teams will debate against Tulane at Charlottesville, and the other on the same night will debate against North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Here Virginia will defend the affirmative side of the question, while at North Carolina she will have the negative.

The union announced that the Virginia State Oratorical Contest would be held here, and that the Southern Oratorical Contest would be held here, and that the Southern Oratorical Contest would be held here, and that the Southern Oratorical Contest would be held here, and that the Southern Oratorical Contest would be held here, and that the Southern Oratorical Contest would be held here, and that the Southern Oratorical Contest would be held here, and that the Southern Oratorical Contest would be held here.

Faueral of Dr. Tankard.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

LANCASTER, VA., January 10.—The death of Dr. James W. Tankard. of Northumberland county, which occurred in Baltlinore some days ago, as already reported in The Times-Dispatch, removed one of the most prominent and useful men of the Northern Neck of Virginia. Prominent as physician, churchman and Freemason, he was known, honored and beloved by all who knew him. His funeral was attended by the largest assemblage over seen before in this section on a similar occasion, more than a thousand persons being present.

Fully 200 colored people attended the burial to testify their respect and sorburial to testify their respect and sor-row, and at the conclusion of the re-ligious and Masonic ceremonies they requested the privilege of singing around the grave. Permission was granted, and when they assembled around the grave and sang one of the old-time hymns, there were few dry eyes in the great throng present.

To-day, while three visiting Bible agents were climbing Mill Mountain in an unfrequented place, they found the young man's dead body hanging to a sapling.

He had taken his leather belt, fastening it to a limb about four feet from the ground and choked himself to death. In his struggles, he had litten his tongue and sunk the nails of his hands into the flesh.

Andrews was twenty-three years of age, was married on December 24th to Miss Edith Kelly, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kelly, his marriage relations were happy, and he was highly regarded by the firm. It is believed that he was insane at the time of the act. He was a son of Mrs. Alex, Andrews, of Lynch-burg.

Want Union Depot.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NEWBERN N. C., January 10.—The Board of Aldermen and the directors of the Chamber of Commerce have taken up the matter of a union depot. Committees were appointed from both bodies to take the matter up with the railroads, and also with the Corporation Commission. The Norfolk and Southern receivers have $5,000 from the recently sold certificates for alterations to the passenger depot, but that sum will only make things worse, as it will mean, if spent, the same old depot for twenty-five years longer. A new location will be asked, and a union depot for the Norfolk and Southern and Atlantic Coast Line insisted on. The present Norfolk and Southern depot has been here for twenty-five years or more, and is an unsightly, dirty depot as can be found anywhere, altogether inadequate for the present amount of business done by the road.

"There's a Reason."

The program now is for the committee to take final action Monday aftermoon and ask for a night session of the House to put the bill upon its passage, trend of talk among members to-day indicating that it will most probably be defeated.

Many representatives are contending that the executive department already receives from the State about 47.590, and that this is enough. Furthermore, it is claimed that quite a number of the Senators who voted for the bill when it passed that body are regreting their action, and would like to say it held up in the House.
